

Knights Cop NCAA Tournament Bid; Meet Amherst In First Round Tuesday

By Jim Breagy

Apparently St. Michael's tremendous 87-51 victory over Colby was quite impressive to the NCAA 'Small College' Tournament Committee, as the Knights have accepted a bid to play Amherst in the first round in the National Tourney.

Willis Stetson of Swarthmore College, chairman of the Eastern NCAA selections, offered the bid to St. Michael's by telephone on Monday afternoon and it was accepted by College President Rev. Francis Moriarty and Athletic Director George (Doc) Jacobs.

In the first round there will be 32 teams playing in various areas throughout the country. Ryder College and St. Peter's will be playing for the New York-New Jersey area and the winner of that affair will meet the St. Michael's-Amherst victor. The club that survives that game will go on to Evansville, Indiana, later in March for an eight-team final playoff.

Amherst is very formidable opponent for the Knights. On the 5th of March they will host our club at their home court for the first round. The regularly scheduled game with the University of Vermont has been pushed back to the 7th.

The Lord-Jeffs of Amherst are paced by Bill Warren, 6-5 center, who leads the club in scoring and rebounding. His scoring average is 23 ppg. Dick Anderson (6-3) and Lee Linderman (6-5) are the forwards. The guards are Phil Hastings and Kip Knights, both 6. Key reserves are guard Dick Schwenn (6-2) and forward Pete Jenkins (6-3). Anderson at 11.1 is the only other Amherst player in double figures.

Blood Drive Set March 25

An all time high quota of 200 pints is set as a goal for the second biannual blood drive at SMC on March 25. In making this announcement, Paul Bouffard, chairman of the Student Council blood drive committee, stated he is calling for an effort on the part of all Michaelmen to participate to insure the fulfillment of this quota.

DOUBLE EFFORTS

In the past, St. Michael's has successfully topped the Red Cross quota of 100 pints by a substantial margin. However, Bouffard pointed out, a doubling of the quota will necessitate a doubling of committee efforts and response.

Plans for organizing the drive are not yet fully complete. They will follow the pattern employed in past drives, with application forms distributed to each student through proctors. When this form has been completed and returned, the committee will issue each donor a time for making the donation on March 25.

Students under 21 years of age are reminded that parental permission is necessary with the forms to become a donor.

Bus Trip; Rally Plans For Game

The Crown and Sword Society is sponsoring a pep rally and a student bus for the St. Michael's-Amherst game on Tuesday, March 5. The game is the first round of the thirty-two team NCAA Tournament.

A pep rally will be held in Austin Hall Sunday evening at 7:00 P.M. The agenda for the evening will include a skit by Jack Aneser and Dick Manning. Both Ed Markey and Doc Jacobs will be present with the team, with Capt. Bernie Cieplicki speaking to the assemblage. Music will be supplied by the AFROTC band and well-known alumnus John Trottia will lead the cheering section.

Tickets for the game are on sale at Doc Jacob's office and may be purchased for $5.00. Tickets for the bus trip to Amherst will be $5.50, and may be obtained from Crown and Sword members.

Rev. Leon Morse Lectures On Catholicism March 18

The 4th Lecture in the Student Council Series will be held March 18th in Science Hall, 107. The Rev. Leon Morse, Pastor of the Union Church in North Thetford, Vermont, will deliver the address entitled, "Catholicism in a Changing Civilization."

Rev. Morse is well-known in the Vermont area for his column "Your Friend" which has appeared for 15 years in the Burlington Free Press. In 1953, he participated with Rev. Vincent B. Maloney, SSE, at the Vermont Rural Life Conference at UVM.

Formerly stationed at the Congregational Church in Concord, New Hampshire. Rev. Morse recently returned from a vacation to the Yucatan Peninsula.

The topic will be concerned with the growth of Catholicism and its relations to our civilization.

Glee Club Gives Concert In Conn.

After giving a highly successful concert in Barre, Vermont, sponsored by the Holy Name Society, on Feb. 17, 1957, the St. Michael's College Glee Club is in full strength and voice for a joint concert with the girls at St. Joseph's College of West Hartford, Conn., Sunday, March 3 at 3 P.M.

The Barre Times headlined that the concert was "tremendously enjoyed". The newly acquired blazers added much polishing to the effective touch of proper shading and perfect harmony that was demonstrated throughout the program. The pleasing musical features were well received by over 500 persons who attended the concert presented at the Marian High School auditorium in Barre. The pastor, Rt. Rev. Mgr. W.A. Cain expressed the hope that the club would return for another engagement.

The bus will leave St. Michael's Saturday at 1 P.M. The 35 singers who will be making the trip will stay in Springfield, Mass. Saturday night at the homes of fellow Michaelmen and leave Sunday morning for St. Joseph's. After the concert the Hilltoppers will remain for a dinner and social given by the girls from St. Joseph's.

St. Michael's College Glee Club will sing a joint concert Sunday, March 3, at St. Joseph's College, West Hartford, Conn. Forty-four singers will make the trip, their first to Connecticut. The program is at 3.

The St. Joseph Singers, led by Dr. Moshe Paranov, will feature "Ceremony of Carols" by Benjamin Britten. They will join the St. Michael's Club in "Hail Mary" by D'Arteaga and a Sigmund Romberg medley, arranged by MacLean.

St. Michael's Glee Club will offer several groups ranging from the 1000-year old Gregorian chant, "Salve Regina" to a Broadway group which concludes with "You'll Never Walk Alone". Armand Carreau, '59, of St. Johns-

Tessier's Address Tops Career Day Activities

The highlight of the third annual Career Day, conducted Friday on campus, was the keynote address by Mr. G.A. Tessier of the General Foods Company. The address initiated the afternoon's activities and was followed by 11 conferences discussing various occupations.

ASSEMBLY

A general assembly at 2:00 P.M. of all students taking advantage of Career Day officially opened the program. Following opening remarks and instructions, Mr. Tessier delivered his address to set the tone for the afternoon. An experienced business man, he was able to give students a true insight on factors which must be considered in choosing a career.

Tessier is presently the manager of General Foods' Maxwell House Coffee plant in Hoboken, N.J. He has attained the position by proving his ability as an administrator. Starting at the Central Laboratories of the plant as a junior technologist in 1943, he worked his way up to his present manager's position of the largest coffee-processing plant in the world.

The large assemblage then divided into smaller groups with students attending the conferences of their choice. Three successive discussion periods were conducted so that it was possible for one student to investigate as many as three potential careers.

OTHER SPEAKERS

Alumni in addition to Mr. Tessier who participated were Dr. Robert O'Brien, Medicine; Attorney Raymond O'Keefe, Law; Charles E. Burns, Banking and Finance; Robert Herbert, Guidance and Social Welfare.

The career of an independent salesman was discussed by Thomas McNamara, presently national alumni president; company sales by Douglas Archambault; Real Estate by

Garrett Returns From Mich.Trip

Mr. Thomas A. Garrett, Registrar, returned last Monday from a weekend trip to the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. Mr. Garrett, who is president of Delta Epsilon Sigma, national Catholic Honor Society, represented this organization at a conference of Association of College Honor Societies.

The conference was held to devise a method by which scholarship standards throughout honor societies could be raised by the Association.

SPEAKERS

The keynote address was delivered by Dr. John Dale of Ohio State University. He stated in his speech that specialization is necessary in American life but shouldn't be initiated too early. Otherwise he warned, an abusive ceiling maybe placed on the broadening effects of a liberal arts or general education.

Dr. Leahe, also of Ohio State, addressed the group on the relationship between liberal arts and professional educations.

Mr. Garrett, when asked if DES might join this Association, replied, "There are great possibilities that DES will join but it is up to the vote of the members to ultimately decide when and if to join."

Thomas Sheehan; and Insurance by Ralph Diehl.

Gerald Haley conducted clinics on Journalism and Public Relations; Robert O'Brien on non scientific industrial opportunities and Conrad Hannigan on Education.

Science Night Plans Progress

March 28th is set as the tentative date for Science Night 1957 at St. Michael's. Science Night will be co-sponsored by the Chemistry and Biology Clubs, under the faculty, direction of Dr. Lemire, chemistry and Professor Belair, biology.

STATE-WIDE

In past years Science Night was only open to high school students of the Burlington and Essex Junction area. This year plans are being made to make the affair state-wide. Invitations are now being extended by the Alumni Office to the principals of every high school in Vermont.

The main purpose of Science Night is to promote interest in all fields of science among high school seniors and college students. Presidents Paul Bouffard and James Moreau of the Chemistry and Biology Clubs have expressed confidence that "this year's

O'Keefe New "Lance" Editor

Rev. Paul A. Gopaul, SSE, editor-in-chief of the Lance, announced today the appointment of Michael E. O'Keefe as the new editor. He will succeed George C. Little, who completed his studies in January, as head of the St. Michael's literary magazine.

The Lance published only twice last year, but was placed on a quarterly schedule in September of 1956. Two issues were successfully published under Little's editorship, with the remaining Spring and final issues to be commanded by O'Keefe.

The appointment assumes the form of a promotion as he served as assistant editor of the Lance throughout the first semester. A Junior English concentrator, O'Keefe

ALUMNI LOUNGE

Another step in activating the social atmosphere around campus is the near completion of the lounge in Alumni Hall. This work is a very successful undertaking by the Student Council during the present scholastic year. Especially recognized for the work was the committee headed by Joe Haley and moderated by Fr. Scully. There have been many enjoying the comfortable relaxation room, something like home, but now and then a few pointers concerning upkeep and explanations are necessary.

Concerning the furniture, the general upkeep thus far has been fair. We say "fair" for many are still using the arm rests for foot rests.

It reflects either bad manners or just plain laziness. Another issue is the smoking situation. Some students still insist that cigarette butts should be strewn on the floor.

It is the special responsibility of each Michaelman to respect the lounge and the furnishings, seeing the students themselves are responsible for its existence.

Some of the furniture as planned has not been received. Some of the items are only temporary, but they still merit a certain respect.

Many newspaper and magazine subscriptions are being donated by the students. We don't expect a student to remove them and bring to his room but rather to think of the next man who may be interested. There shouldn't be any sequestered attitude concerning the lounge. Each student, no matter in what building his room is located, is invited and welcome to enjoy our new 'recreation den'.

The Committee Chairman especially pointed out that any suggestions to curb injustices or to help and to the better use of the lounge are welcomed. We must realize that a transformation does not happen overnight. Time and money are, of course, the most important factors, beyond student cooperation. With the allocation of more funds next year, a very successful project should be completed.

Fellowships To Study Abroad

More than 74,000 international scholarships and fellowships are offered by governments, universities, foundations and other institutions in over 100 countries and territories. They are listed in the latest (eighth) edition of Study Abroad, an international handbook published by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

This total compares with the 15,000 scholarships and fellowships listed in the first edition published in 1948. It includes fellowships awarded by eight countries not previously listed as donors, among them the Republic of Korea, Morocco and Panama.

This current edition of Study Abroad lists the results of UNESCO's annual survey of foreign student enrollments at universities and other institutions of higher learning throughout the world. A survey covering the years 1954-1955 showed that an estimated total of 126,000 students were studying outside their own countries.

The United States leads the world in the number of students from foreign countries, with a total of 34,232. Next comes France with 16,041, the United Kingdom with 9,050, the German Federal Republic with 5,368, Switzerland with 3,768, Austria with 3,491, and Egypt with 2,854.

The United States also holds the lead among countries offering fellowships, with 20,587 listed in Study Abroad. Next comes France with 5,783, Egypt with 4,909, Turkey with 2,002 and the United Kingdom with 1,803. The United Nations and its Agencies offer 3,727 fellowships and international non-governmental organizations another 5,624.

What do students study in foreign countries? The largest group - 27 per cent -- is in the humanities and education, based on report from 19 countries. Next come social sciences and law, 19 per cent; medicine, 18 per cent; engineering and technology, 16 per cent; and natural sciences, 14 per cent.

Study Abroad includes in its 719 pages authoritative information on opportunities for foreign study including how and where applications may be made. The index reveals who can study, what subjects and where. More than twice as many of these grants are available to American students than to those of any other country.

DAILY
MASS
7:00, 7:30

It is with shaking hands that we sit down to tap the keys of our typewriter this evening. Little did we know that last week's escapade in the "Maxims" would bring forth an avalanche. BROTHER did we put ourselves before a firing squad? We want to explain to all our friends that we did not mean any disrespect. Aren't we our brother's keeper?... The printed word is a dangerous thing but never before has it been used for suicide.

Being integrated people we can readily understand how such confusion resulted. Men of letters can't help but pry into the hidden meaning of a text. So we managed to come up with an illustration. Here is a simple paragraph that looks harmless enough, but look what can happen when one is searching for implication.....

"There's a sixty-mile auto trip that I take about a dozen times a year. About twenty miles from the college campus along that route is an utterly indefensible small-town traffic light. In order to avoid it, I make a hairpin turn about two blocks from the intersection and desert the smooth highway for a miserable little alley, which meanders aimlessly in and out of peoples' cabbage patches and finally rejoins the main road a half a block beyond the light. The alley is a garage man's Shangri-La, pitted with large poocks and generously sprinkled with broken bottles and ten-penny nails. I know it doesn't save me money, and I'm not sure it saves me time. But when I am directing a friend over that highway, I say to him with a knowing glint in my eye: "Now when I get here, I always take a little short cut I discovered. It isn't on the map."

If you're wondering where this little gem was taken from you can find it on page 43 of our freshman Rhetoric. Now let's see what we can make of all this by way of analysis.

"A sixty-mile autotrip twelve times a year, ah ha..." This very obvious comment is not made only in passing. Examination of this loaded phrase indicates that sixty divided by twelve gives the answer five - the magic number The conclusion being that the local dope ring uses five as a secret code word.

"A small indefensible traffic light situated along the campus route...." You cannot help but see the calculated planning used by the local Police Department in placing a traffic light mid-way between a super-highway and a cow path. Who ever heard of giving a cow a ticket?????

"Sneaking into a small deserted alley in and out of cabbage patches,... Now you can easily see the hidden criminal intent. Back alleys, cabbage patches; it all ties in. This master-mind, by use of hairpin turns has maneuvered himself into a great train robbery, the light, of course, being the final clue.

"A garage man's Shangri-La...." Here enters the Chinese influence. Pocks, thousands of pocks.... The main thought lying in these holes. Only the magic number can bring to light the strange motives of garage men. See? This all fits together. The rest of the sentence being immaterial; the words thrown in to catch you.

"Doesn't save money or time..." Smart move.... This shows a man really using his head.

"The directing of a friend down the alley, not forgetting the glint in his eye...." The whole purpose here is not what's seen on the surface. Who wouldn't send a car down that alley if he owned a tow-truck flat-fixing business ????

The analysis when finally summarized gives an entirely different picture. It can be stated in one sentence: "A dope peddler, who gets a ticket at a strategically located light on the verge of committing a great train robbery in a cabbage patch, is thwarted by a Chinaman who owned a garage in an alley that didn't make any money."

See what can happen when our little imaginations run away with themselves????? It should be clear by now that we were directing our so-called humor in the direction of Knightlights. We were friends with the world when we scribbled last week's light-hearted comments. Remember you're reading two attempts at harmless wit and not Chaucer's Middle English.. Are we still friends??? Have you brought your ticket to Knightlights?

BLOOD DRIVE

PAINLESS OPERATION

Giving blood, Bouffard stressed, is a painless process, an interesting experience, and a service to the country. Trained Red Cross personnel will be on campus to make the actual blood drawings in Austin Hall.

No preparations are needed to give blood but a few precautions should be followed to prevent any unpleasant reactions. A substantial meal should be consumed a few hours before the time of donation, although not immediately before it. All that is then necessary is to follow directions given by Red Cross personnel and avoid strenuous exercise for several hours after the donation.

SCIENCE NIGHT

A speaker from General Electric's Pittsfield, Mass., plant who's name will be announced at a later date, will deliver an address to highlight the evening. Demonstrations will be set up by physics, biology and chemistry students of SMC on all three floors of Science Hall. These exhibitions are open to all college students on campus.

Champagne, '59Wins Award

Winner of the annual chemistry award this year is freshman George Champagne of Menden, Connecticut. Mr. Michael's, of the SMC chemistry department, presented the award at an informal session in his office.

The yearly prize, a Handbook of Chemistry and Physics valued at $12, is made under the sponsorship of the Chemical Rubber Company. Champagne was selected for the award because he has maintained the highest average in general chemistry throughout the first semester.

The chemistry award parallels the physics prize, also granted under the sponsorship of the Chemical Rubber Company. Sophomore Don Houde was the recipient of the physics award this year, as recently reported in the "MICHAELMAN".

Entrance Examinations for Saint John's Seminary will be held on Tuesday, June 18, 1957, beginning at 9:00 a.m. Those who have completed at least two years of college are eligible for admission to the Major Seminary. All those who are interested should communicate as soon as possible with the Rector, Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Riley, either by letter or by telephone. (Stadium 2-1010).

Mr. Thomas Kenney, Assistant to the President, discusses career plans in his office with Tom Johnson prior to Career Day 1957. Mr. Kenney organized and directed the annual event through the Alumni Office.

Players Inc. Now In Europe

Players Incorporated will make their fifth overseas tour this Spring before they reopen St. Michael's College summer Playhouse in July.

Negotiations have just been completed for the touring company of Players to entertain U.S. Armed Forces in Germany for seven weeks. Word of the trip was received at St. Michael's by Rev. Gerald E. Dupont, S.S.E., academic dean who supervises the summer Playhouse.

In 1952 and 1953, Players travelled throughout the Far East Command in Japan and Korea. In 1955 and again in 1956, they took their shows to soldier audiences in Europe. Last year, they included the Arctic Circle in their itinerary.

"Charley's Aunt" will be alternated with Shakespeare's "Henry IV" (part one) for soldier audiences. These two hits from their current repertory have been enthusiastically received in their sold out 40,000 mile tour of the United States. It will take Players until the latter part of April to fulfill bookings in this country.

The trip to Germany will start on or about Easter Sunday. The company will return in time to take a short vacation before taking up summer duties.

Some of the touring Players will be back at St. Michael's for their seventh season on campus. Others will be at the Olney (Md.) Theatre. The St. Michael's season, part of its summer session, starts July 9 and runs six weeks.

My Beat— By Tom Leavitt

Members of last year's graduating class continue to maintain their contacts with SMC. Several, including Russ Gangi and Don Flynn, have stopped in during the past few weeks to say hello and take advantage of our location to do a little skiing. Bob Dumaine, Hank Breedenberg, Craig Tynan and Oggie Dodge drop a line to acquaintances regularly, asking for news on how things are going on campus. Few, even the worst cynics, can stay away for long before they begin inquiring how things are here on the hilltop. This should be good news for the Alumni Office, whose job is to see that our grads keep an active interest in affairs at Winooski Park.

* * * * *

Our Alumni Office, and "Class", the alumni quarterly, lost a devoted worker when Maureen Neary left three weeks ago to marry Peter Chiacchieri, a member of the class of '54. Pete, who is now a U.S.A.F. officer, studied for a year in Italy on a Fulbright fellowship after leaving St. Michael's. All of us who have had the benefits of Maureen's helping hand (in typing, cutting stencils, making phone calls, digging up information) wish she and Pete "the mostest of the bestest" in the future.

* * * * *

We've found another Oxford joke, fitted to the times: Undergraduate, on taking leave of the campus, after graduation: "See you later, alma mater."

Dean, on waving goodby: "After awhile, bibliophile."

* * * * *

Mike O'Keefe, present editor of The Lance, tells us that the material turned in for his next issue has amazed and pleased him in quantity and quality. We can only say that we're not surprised, considering the fine job done by Mike's predecessor and by Fr. Gopaul in arousing almost universal student interest in the magazine. To improve its financial situation, the quarterly has also found itself a business manager in Harry Knight, himself a proven businessman from Winooski. Jim Walsh, who is in charge of the interclass writing competition, should have his hands full soon, compiling point totals for all classes which have contributed to this year's Lance and Quill.

* * * * *

It appears that the Business Forum, an off-again, on-again organization during the past four years, is now on-again. A meeting was held on the 27th to find out who might be interested and what sort of program could be developed. What with all our business concentrators on campus, the club might become one of the largest, given leadership, interest, and time.

* * * * *

Michaelmen may have to fight for tickets to see "Shekels", this year's K & K production, if tickets continue to be sold at the present pace by the Burlington Holy Name Society, which is sponsoring the play. As of last week 600 tickets had been sold, and the show is still six weeks distant. For the first time in several years the players are performing in the municipal auditorium in Burlington. Officials predict a sell-out, which seems likely in view of the fact that proceeds are going for a new Central Catholic high school.

10th Straight Over Larries

In a rather sloppy game at the Auditorium the Purple Knights had little trouble in winning their tenth straight victory. St. Lawrence was the victim this time 86-69.

St. Lawrence stayed with the Knights throughout the first half as the Purple club had certainly seen better nights. At the 10 minute mark local fans were surprised to see the score tied 17-17. When the two teams left the floor at intermission time, St. Michael's led by 5 points 39-34.

The second half was a different story, however, as good shooting and St. Lawrence personals added up to another victory for the Knights. With Tony Nicodemo and Bill Kuchar peppering away from the outside and John Wegrzynski grabbing rebounds and blocking shots it became a walk away. The club made 13 of 20 free throw attempts in this half.

Giant Lou Grimaldi, 6'5" and 265 lbs., gave both Gretkowsky and Wegrzynski a lot of trouble throughout the contest as they couldn't move around him for rebounds and were forced to play position to get their share. Big Lou stole the scoring honors with 20 points.

Lenten Fast Laws

LAW OF ABSTINENCE: Binding on all students.

1. Complete abstinence, that is, abstinence from meat and soup or gravy made from meat at all meals, is to be observed on Ash Wednesday and all Fridays. Holy Saturday is treated as any other Saturday in Lent - a day of fast until midnight.

2. Partial abstinence is to be observed on Ember Wednesday (March 13) and Ember Saturday (March 16). On these days, meat may be taken only once a day at the principal meal.

LAW OF FAST: Obligatory for all over 21 years of age.

When health or ability to work are seriously affected as a result of fasting, consult your confessor or Priest-Proctor.

1. All days of Lent are days of fast. On days of fast, only one full meal is allowed. Two other meatless meals, sufficient to maintain strength, may be taken, according to each one's need; but, together, should not equal another full meal.
2. During Lent the principal meal of the day will be served in the evening.
3. At the noon meal on fast days, provision will be made so that those who are obliged to fast may have a meatless lunch.
4. For those who are obliged to fast, the morning and noon meal should not equal in quantity the principal meal.
5. Eating between meals is not permitted; but liquids, including milk and fruit juices are allowed.

To foster the spirit of penance and of reparation for sin, to encourage self-denial and mortifications, and to guide her children, in the footsteps of Our Divine Saviour, Holy Mother Church imposes by law the observance of fast and abstinence. All Catholics, unless excused by reason of age, condition of health or legitimate cause, are bound, under pain of sin, to observe these laws. All students, regardless of age or health, are bound by a serious obligation to do penance.

St. Michael's scoring was well distributed. Bill Kuchar led the way with 19 closely followed by Bernie Cieplicki with 17. Hank Gretkowsky, 15, Tony Nicodemo, 13, and John Wegrzynski, 12, were other double figure men.

One game remains before the all important tournament game with Amherst. Middlebury hosts the Knights this Saturday night.

The Public Relations Office in Old Hall needs the cardboards returned in shirts from the college laundry. Any cardboards turned in by students will be greatly appreciated.

A victory over Holy Cross, 90-74, was the key factor in putting them in the tournament. AIC and Colby are the only St. Michael's opponents that they have played. They lost to the Acee, 81-66, and beat the Mules 80-63. Army is another Lord-Jeff victim.

Until the Amherst tilt, the Knights' schedule will continue as planned. The game scheduled to be played at Middlebury will go on as planned Saturday night.

If the Knights should take the Lord-Jeffs, either St. Peter's or Ryder will be at the Auditorium the following week.

Squires Bow To Indians

In a wild and wolly affair at Burlington's Memorial Auditorium, the St. Michael's Purple Squires dropped their final game of the season, losing to Dartmouth Frosh 86-72. Although never being seriously out of contention, the Squires just couldn't seem to catch the sharpshooting Big Green.

TIGHT DEFENSE

The opening minutes saw both clubs checking closely, setting a defensive pattern which lasted for the whole tilt. With 10 minutes of play gone, the score showed the Squires in the lead 20-19. After this point the Big Green moved out in front, leading 42-31 at half.

COULDN'T CATCH UP

Trying vainly to recover the Squires couldn't overcome the deficit and despite a 12 point spree by Jim Browne were down 64-50 with 10 minutes left. From here on in the clubs swapped baskets, maintaining the same margin. The final score gave Dartmouth a hard fought 86-72 win.

Browne's outstanding 31 point effort was tops for the Squires; surprise starter Artie Orlando followed with 18. The Big Green were led by Sosnowski's 25 points.

COLBY 9TH STRAIGHT PURPLE VICTIM 87-51

The Purple Knights put on quite a show for Waterville basketball fans last Saturday as they handed Colby its worst defeat of the year 87-51 and secured for themselves an NCAA 'Small College' Tournament bid.

NINTH STRAIGHT

It was the ninth in a row for the Purple Quintet and they had no trouble whatsoever. Colby was in the game for the first ten minutes only. At one point early in the game, St. Michael's held a slim 21-19 margin but wasted no time pulling away. Hitting on 20 of their 40 field attempts in the first half, they led at intermission 47-26.

BERNIE HIGH

The second half was much the same as St. Michael's made 17 out 35 to put the game on ice. Four of the Knights were in double figures as Drew Denmead held the high scoring Charlie Twigg to 13 markers. Bernie Cieplicki led the parade with 21 points, 20 of which came on field goals. Bill Kuchar was hot with 20 while Hank Gretkowsky contributed 19 to the cause. Durable Denmead had 11.

REBOUND RACE

St. Michael's controlled the boards throughout the fray. John Wegrzynski grabbed 23 rebounds while two-way Gretkowsky snatched 19.

In the last few minutes Doc Jacobs cleared the Purple bench as Tony Nicodemo came in to add 8 points to the total.

Last Fall who would have suspected that the Purple Knights would ever be invited to a national basketball play-off? The newly formed Small College NCAA Tournament will have the top eight colleges, two each from the four main sections of the country, participating for the nation's best among small college championships. The Knights are a long way from the finals that will be played at Evansville, Indiana, but March 5, the Jacobmen will play Amherst at the Amherst Cage in their first quest for national honors. If St. Michael's is successful in their first attempt then they will return to Burlington where they'll play host to another, presently undecided, college hopeful. The Knights can jell an Indiana trip by winning these two play-offs, however, the gentlemen from Amherst are also tournament-minded individuals and they are the proud administrators of a sound beating of the Purple Crusaders of Holy Cross. Enough said.

Spirit of old is once more making its appearance at basketball games at the Auditorium this winter and needless-to-say the five men out on the court representing us and our school have felt its presences. Amherst is a long way from home but a trip to the Bay State would do us all good, the team will be there and there's nothing wrong with playing for a partisan crowd away from home. Get the cars greased and oiled man, we're heading for civilization.

The crying towel that stretches from the "Cage of the Hawk" in Manchester to Burlington was unpacked last Tuesday and the St. A's quintet used it to make their exit from the court against Siena with that age old cry, P-O-O-R OFFICIATING. The Hawk squawk again.

Chit Chat:

The New York Giants are without their first string back-stop as of last Monday, Bill Sarni had a slight coronary attack and has played his last game of baseball ... Former St. Michael's grid excellent, Frank Cotter, is thinking of his alma mater's future grid battles and his aid to the cause, Mrs. Cotter gave birth of their third child, all daughters ... UVM's trouncing of Union should make March 7 engagement with the Knights more entertaining, hey Picks Mr. Lord threatens revenge.

REGULATIONS FOR THE INTRAMURAL ELIMINATION TOURNAMENT

- 1) Each floor in Ryan and Alumni Hall will be permitted to enter 2 teams. Old Hall II will be permitted to enter 2 teams while Old Hall III and IV will each be permitted to enter one team. St. Johns, St. Wills, Off Campus and Pre Theos each will be permitted to enter a team. Thus making a yield of 24 teams.

2) Each team must have a roster of at least 8 players and must also submit a team name.

3) No team will be allowed to have Varsity, Freshmen or Inter-class basketball players.

4) Roosters must be handed in the Rob. and Caprio Alumni 226 by March 2.

This tournament will be run on a process of elimination by loss or profit.
